INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Commissioners
Alexander House Development Corporation,
Housing Opportunities Commission of Montgomery County

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Alexander House Development Corporation, which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2021 and 2020, and the related statements of activities, changes in net position and statements of cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Alexander House Development Corporation's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Alexander House Development Corporation's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Alexander House Development Corporation, as of June 30, 2021 and 2020, and the changes in its net position and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Other Matters – Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements as a whole. The accompanying supplementary information on pages 24 – 26 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the financial statements as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2021 and 2020

NOTE 1 - ORGANIZATION AND NATURE OF OPERATIONS

Alexander House Development Corporation (the Corporation) was formed on November 6, 1996 as a non-stock corporation under the laws of the State of Maryland for the purpose of acquiring a 311-unit apartment complex to provide rental housing for the elderly and disabled, some of which are low and moderate-income families. The Corporation began operations in January 1997. The contributed capital to establish the Corporation was all paid in by the Housing Opportunities Commission of Montgomery County, Maryland (HOC).

On January 31, 2017, the Corporation sold 122 units to Alexander Housing Limited Partnership for $27,757,128. The Corporation's dwelling units are located in Montgomery County, Maryland which constitutes a concentration of credit risk. The Corporation's collateral for rents receivable is one month's rent held as a security deposit.

NOTE 2 - SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Accounting

The Corporation prepares its financial statements on the accrual basis of accounting consistent with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Capital Assets

Land, buildings and building renovations, equipment and furniture and fixtures will be recorded at cost. Improvements are to be capitalized, while expenditures for maintenance and repairs will be expensed. Upon disposal of depreciable property, the appropriate property accounts are to be reduced by the related costs and accumulated depreciation.

The assets are depreciated over their estimated service lives. The estimated service lives of the assets for depreciation purposes may be different than their actual economic useful lives.

	Estimated life	Method
Buildings	40 years	Straight-line
Building renovations	10 years	Straight-line
Equipment	10 years	Straight-line
Furniture & fixtures	5 years	Straight-line

Accounts Receivable and Bad Debts

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that the allowance method be used to recognize bad debts. Management's estimate of the allowance is based on historical collection experience and a review of the current status of tenant accounts receivable. It is reasonably possible that management's estimate of the allowance will change.

Financing Receivables and Allowance for credit losses:

Financing receivables that management has the intent and ability to hold for the foreseeable future or until maturity or payoff are reported at the principal balance outstanding, net of an allowance for credit losses, if any. Interest is accrued on the unpaid principal balance and recorded as interest income.

The allowance for credit losses is a valuation allowance for probable incurred credit losses. Credit losses are charged against the allowance when management believes the collectability of a financing receivable is confirmed. Subsequent recoveries, if any, are credited to the allowance. Management estimates allowance required using experience, nature and volume of the financing receivable, information about specific borrower situations, estimated collateral values, economic conditions, and other factors.

Revenue Recognition

The Project's primary revenue stream is rent charges for residential units under leases with durations of one year or less. The Project records revenue for such leases at gross potential rent subject to restrictions imposed by the Montgomery County Government. The rental value of vacancies and other concessions are stated separately to present net rental income on accrual basis. Tenant subsidy revenue represents rent received from the tenants possessing Housing Choice Vouchers.

Subsidy income is considered part of the lease and is not considered a contribution under ASC 958. This standard indicates that government payments to specifically identified participants are to be considered exchange transactions and potentially subject to ASC 606. The Project believes that such both rental and subsidy income streams are exempted from compliance with ASC 606 due to their inclusion under current and future lease standards. Revenue streams subject to ASC 606 include: tenant reimbursement of consumption-based costs paid by the Project on behalf of the tenant, such as utilities and other monthly fees.

Additional revenue includes laundry, vending, pet and parking fees as well as damages. Such fees are ancillary to the lease process and are recognized as revenue at the point in time such fees are incurred. Rental income is recognized as income as it is earned. Rental payment received in advance are deferred until earned.

All leases between the Corporation and the tenants of the property are operating leases.

Deferred Costs and Amortization

In accordance with ASC-835 “Interest”, issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB), the deferred costs are recorded as a reduction of the related debt balance and the amortization of these costs are included in interest expense.

Advertising

Advertising costs are charged to operations when incurred.

Income Taxes

The Corporation excludes its income from income taxes in accordance with the Internal Revenue Code Section 115. Therefore, no income tax provision has been recorded.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the Corporation to report information regarding its exposure to various tax positions taken by the Corporation. Management has determined whether any tax positions have met the recognition threshold and has measured the Corporation’s exposure to those tax positions. Management believes that the Corporation has addressed all relevant tax positions and there are no unrecorded tax liabilities.

Federal and state tax authorities have the right to examine and audit the previous three years of tax returns filed. Any interest and penalties assessed to the Company are recorded as expenses of the Company. No interest or penalties from federal or state tax authorities were recorded in the accompanying financial statements.

Off-balance sheet risk

The Corporation extends unsecured credit to its tenants for its rental units. Accordingly, the risk exists that the ability to collect amounts due from tenants could be affected if tenants become insolvent.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Alexander House Development Corporation
(A Maryland Corporation)

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2021 and 2020

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

The Corporation reviews its rental property for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of an asset may not be recoverable. If the fair value is less than the carrying amount of the asset, an impairment loss is recognized for the difference. No impairment loss has been recognized during the years ended June 30, 2021 and 2020.

Cash, Cash Equivalents and Restricted Cash

Short-term liquid investments (including securities purchased under agreements to resell) with original maturities of less than three months are considered to be cash equivalents. Cash, tenant security deposits and restricted cash are presented as a sum and reported as cash and cash equivalents on the Balance Sheet.

NOTE 3 – POOLED INVESTMENTS

The Corporation has replacement reserve cash in a pooled fund with other properties that are controlled by HOC and are deposited with the Montgomery County Government. HOC monitors the funds in this pooled account on a regular basis and maintains records and support with regard to funds belonging to each property. HOC has records and support to identify the funds belonging to each property at any given point of time. HOC ensures that the pooled funds are not used to fund operations of the non-performing properties.

NOTE 4 – CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

The Corporation maintains its operating cash and cash reserve balances in several accounts in one bank. The operating cash and cash reserve balances are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to $250,000. At times, these balances may exceed the federal insurance limits; however, the Corporation has not experienced any losses with respect to its bank balances in excess of government provided insurance. Management believes that no significant concentration of credit risk exists with respect to these operating cash and cash reserve balances for the year ended June 30, 2021 and 2020. Cash deposits in excess of the FDIC limit of $250,000 are collateralized with securities held by the pledging financial institution's trust department or agent.

NOTE 5 – TENANT SECURITY DEPOSIT

The Maryland Real Property Code requires that security deposits from residential tenants be segregated from general funds of the Corporation. Accordingly, the Corporation holds all security deposit funds from residential tenants in a separate, interest-bearing account.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2021 and 2020

NOTE 8 – NOTES RECEIVABLE

Seller Note Receivable

On January 31, 2017, the Corporation entered into a Purchase Money Loan Promissory Note (the “Note”) with Alexander House Apartments LP, a related party (the “Borrower”), in the amount of $14,218,641. Under the terms of the agreement, the note bore interest of 5.5% per annum compounded annually and matures forty-two years from commencement of amortization, which is expected to be December 31, 2059. Payments of principal and interest are to be made from available cash flow as defined in the partnership agreement of Alexander House Apartments LP. As per the terms of the Note, the Borrower may prepay this note in whole or in part at any time or from time to time without penalty or premium. On September 11, 2019, the Corporation amended the terms of the Note by adjusting the interest rate from 5.5% to 4.45% which was to be effective January 1, 2019.

Management believes that the collectability of the note is reasonably certain having regard to the projections of net cash flows, economic turnaround and financial stability of the Borrower and the possible sale of the Project at its fair value. The management believes there does not arise the need for an allowance of credit losses for the said Note. As of June 30, 2021 and 2020, the principal balance of the Note was $14,218,641 and accrued interest receivable thereon was in the amount of $3,227,676 and 2,479,118, respectively, and is included in Interest Receivable.

Bridge Note Receivable

During 2018, the Corporation entered into a promissory note (the “Note”) with Alexander House Apartments LP, a related party (the “Borrower”), in the original amount of $2,274,872. The bridge loan bears interest at 2.75% per annum, compounding annually, and matures on or before the first day of the thirty-first full calendar month, which is July 1, 2019. Payments of principal and interest are made from available cash flow as defined in the partnership agreement of Alexander House Apartments LP. As per the terms of the Note, the borrower may prepay this Note in whole or in part at any time or from time to time without penalty or premium. As of June 30, 2019, the principal balance outstanding on this note was in the amount of $1,599,353. During the year ended June 30, 2020, the Corporation made additional advances to the borrower in the amount of $675,512. During the year ended June 30, 2020, the Corporation received $2,274,872 from Alexander House Apartments LP. The entire principal balance on this note was received during the year ended June 30, 2020. As of June 30, 2021 and 2020, there was no principal balance on this note. The entire accrued interest receivable on this note was received during the year ended June 30, 2021. As of June 30, 2021 and 2020, the accrued interest on this Note was in the amount of $0 and $64,450, respectively, and was included in Interest Receivable.

NOTE 9 - MORTGAGE LOANS PAYABLE

Construction Funding Agreement

On January 1, 2017, the Corporation entered into a loan agreement with HOC for up to $48,788,075 through a funding loan originated with Citibank for the renovation. The loan matured on February 1, 2020 with interest according to the terms of the funding agreement.

NOTE 13 - RECENTLY ADOPTED ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

ASU No. 2016-03: “Interest - Imputation of Interest: Simplifying the Presentation of Debt Issuance Costs” (ASU 2016-03)

In April 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2016-03, “Interest - Imputation of Interest: Simplifying the Presentation of Debt Issuance Costs” (ASU 2016-03), which resulted in the reclassification of debt issuance costs from “Other Assets” to inclusion as a reduction of the reportable “Long-Term Debt” balance on the balance sheets. The Corporation has elected to adopt ASU 2016-03 with full retrospective application as required by the guidance. This standard did not have any material impact on the balance sheets and had no impact on the cash flows provided by or used in operations for any period presented.

ASU No. 2016-18 : “Statement of Cash Flows (Topic 230): Restricted Cash a consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force” (ASU 2016-18)

In November 2016, the Financial Accounting Standard Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standard Update (ASU) No. 2016-18 “Statement of Cash Flows (Topic 230): Restricted Cash a consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force” (ASU 2016-18), which resulted in the presentation of cash and cash equivalent shall be reported as sum of the total amount of cash, cash equivalents and amounts generally described as restricted cash or restricted cash equivalent. at the end of the corresponding period shown in the statement of cash flows. The Corporation has elected to adopt ASU 2016-18 with full retrospective application as required by the guidance. This standard has resulted in presenting cash and cash equivalent on the face of the balance sheet, equal sum of all cash, cash equivalent, restricted cash and restricted cash equivalents. Furthermore, the standard updates the presentation of Statement of Cash flows, which results in showing Net Increase or Decrease in cash, cash equivalent, and restricted cash, and Cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash at the beginning of year and Cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash at the end of year.

ASU No. 2014-09 : "Revenue from contracts with customers" (ASC 606)

In May 2014, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2014-09 "Revenue from contract with customers" (ASC 606) and all related amendments. ASC 606 supersedes most existing revenue recognition guidance. ASC 606 provides a principles-based framework for recognizing revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the entity expects in exchange for the goods or services provided. It also requires enhanced disclosures to enable users of financial statements to understand the nature, amount, timing, and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from contracts with customers. This ASU is effective for fiscal years beginning December 15, 2019. The Corporation has elected to adopt ASC 606 and all related amendments using the modified retrospective transition method.

NOTE 14 – ADOPTION OF NEW ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLE

Cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash

In prior years, cash, tenant security deposits and restricted cash were presented as separate line items in the Balance Sheet. As of July 1, 2019, the Corporation retrospectively adopted the newly required accounting standard that requires the Corporation to present cash, tenant security deposit and restricted cash as a sum and report as cash and cash equivalent. The standard requires, the descriptive nature of the restrictions on restricted cash should be presented in the notes to financial statements (Note 5 and Note 7).

As of June 30, 2021 and 2020, the amounts summed in cash and cash equivalents are as follows:

	2021	2020
Cash	$ 254,652	$ 581,105

NOTE 14 – ADOPTION OF NEW ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLE - CONTINUED

Debt Issuance Cost

As of January 1, 2016, the Corporation retrospectively adopted the newly required accounting standard that requires the Corporation to present debt issuance costs as a reduction of the principal balance of the related debt and amortize these costs as additional interest expense using the effective interest rate method that results in a constant effective yield over the life of the related loan. The effect of using the straight-line method is not materially different from the results that would have been obtained using the effective interest rate method. In prior years the Corporation paid debt issuance cost in the amount of $1,426,537. During the years ended June 30, 2021 and 2020, the Corporation paid debt issuance cost in the amount of $0 and $2,010,438, respectively. As of June 30, 2021 and 2020, the accumulated debt issuance cost were in the amount of $1,498,133 and $1,447,872, respectively. During the years ended June 30, 2021 and 2020, the amortization of debt issuance cost were in the amount of $50,261 and $504,655, respectively, and is included in Interest Expense.

	2021	2020
Total Debt issuance cost	3,436,975	3,436,975
Less: Accumulated amortization	(1,498,133)	(1,447,872)
Debt issuance cost as of June 30, 2020	1,938,842	1,989,103

Below is the summary of Interest Expense and Amortization on Debt Issuance Cost for years ended June 30, 2021 and 2020:

	2021	2020
Interest expense	$ 1,750,194	$ 1,897,348

NOTE 15 – CONTINGENCY

COVID-19

In December 2019, an outbreak of a novel strain of coronavirus (COVID-19) originated in Wuhan, China and has since then spread to other countries, including the U.S. On March 11, 2020, the World Health Organization characterized COVID-19 as a pandemic. In addition, multiple jurisdictions in the U.S. declared a state of emergency. It is anticipated that these impacts will continue for some time. There has been no immediate impact to the Corporation's operations. Future potential impacts may include disruptions or restrictions on the employees' ability to work or the tenant's ability to pay the required monthly rent. Operating functions that may be changed include intake, recertifications and maintenance. Changes to the operating environment may increase operating costs. Additional impacts may include the ability of tenants to continue making rental payments as a result of job loss or other pandemic related issues. The future effects of this pandemic issues are unknown.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2021 and 2020

NOTE 16 - CURRENT VULNERABILITY DUE TO CERTAIN CONCENTRATIONS

The Corporation's sole asset is a 189-unit apartment project. The Corporation's operations are concentrated in the multifamily real estate market. In addition, the Corporation operates in a heavily regulated environment. The operations of the Corporation are subject to the administrative directives, rules and regulations of federal agencies, including, but not limited to, HUD. Such administrative directives, rules and regulations are subject to change by an act of Congress or an administrative change mandated by HUD. Such changes may occur with little notice or inadequate funding to pay for the related cost, including the additional administrative burden, to comply with a change.

NOTE 17 – REAL ESTATE TAXES

HOC negotiated with the State of Maryland an exemption from real estate taxes for the Corporation. Therefore, no provision for real estate taxes has been made.

NOTE 18 - SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Events that occur after the balance sheet date but before the financial statements were issued must be evaluated for recognition or disclosure. The effects of subsequent events that provide evidence about conditions that existed at the balance sheet date are recognized in the accompanying financial statements. Subsequent events which provide evidence about conditions that existed after the balance sheet date, require disclosure in the accompanying notes. Management evaluated the activity of the Corporation through November 17, 2021 (the date the financial statements were issued) and concluded that no subsequent events have occurred that would require recognition in the financial statements or disclosure in the notes to the financial statements.
